HOW TO

This Wiki is organised as follows:

The starting point can be found here: https://www.cloudsocket.eu/common-understanding-wiki/

From here you can either enter the "Technology and Terminology Wiki" or the "Component Documentation Wiki" by clicking on the highlighted text.

You choose the "Technology and Terminology Wiki" when you are interested in our common understanding of the terms (users, roles, models, etc.) used during the project. Along with these definitions we stored the main tools and technologies we considered as relevant. On the main page of this Wiki you see a two-fold approach to access the content, a domain and a taxonomy-oriented way. More detail on this can be found there.

You click on the "Component Documentation Wiki" if you want to have an insight into the interfaces and its documentation. These are separated by the respective Environments of the CloudSocket software suite. Depending on the external tools used for these Environments you may find also hyperlinks to documentations hosted on other platforms, e.g. Github.

If you encounter any problems when accessing the Wiki, do not hesitate to contact us by email (info@cloudsocket.eu) or via twitter (@cloudsocketeu).
